

Diane Wade

Westside Pacific Villages

Providing Needed Support to Adults Aging at Home

By Diane Wade

Westside Pacific Villages (WPV) is a 501(c)3 nonprofit, volunteer-based organization founded in 2010 that helps older adults on the Westside of L.A. stay safe, secure, and socially connected as they age in place in their homes. We send local vetted volunteers to assist seniors with chores, errands, grocery shopping, support with phones and computers, or just to check in with a friendly visit or call. One of our most popular services we provide is giving rides to doctors and other appointments. We also host social activities and events to combat isolation and loneliness, such as movie and cultural outings, lunches, happy hours, conversation groups, games and more.

There is a small monthly fee to join, and transportation service packages are available for an additional charge. We serve adults 60+ in Culver City and several surrounding communities.

Client Kass Frenzela says, "I became aware of WPV due to a membership gift from thoughtful friends, and have been a member ever since. WPV is an outstanding local organization with an exceptional small office staff and many activities directed mainly toward older folks. There are many wonderful advantages to being a member, including dedicated volunteers always there to be of help and assistance in connecting members to helpful resources, such as rides to doctors, technical assistance, social events, and so much more. The Monthly Newsletter is filled with many newly available activities and interesting and helpful information. I always enjoy the sightseeing visits via the Metro, conducted by their knowledgeable volunteers, and also the educational seminars. There is so much available with a WPV membership, and I am very grateful to be a member of this superior organization."

Client Maria Martin adds, "I'm so thankful for all the help and support I've received from WPV. Every one of the volunteers have truly made my life easier and happier—it's honestly felt like therapy. In their company I feel elated and more awake to the good around me. Thank you from the bottom of my heart."

We are always looking for volunteers! Volunteering with WPV is ideal for busy people because you can give as little as 30 minutes of your time, and we are flexible to work with your schedule. You can help seniors with transportation, errands or chores, or participate from home on our committees for programming, marketing, fundraising, and more.

310.695.7030 / TheWPV.org

Diane Wade is the Director of Programs and Community Development for Westside Pacific Villages.

MARYAM
COMPASS

BUY SELL RENT and smarter with Maryam Majnoonian

Your Partner in Real Estate Success

DRE#01862215

310.405.9089